Recommended Citation

Dr. Rachel Simon is the Hebraica Cataloger at Princeton University Libraries. She holds an MLS from the University of Washington, Seattle, and a Ph.D. in the History of the Muslim Countries from the Hebrew University, Jerusalem. She served as editor of the Middle East Faculty from 1982 to 1986, and since 1995 chairs the Cataloging Committee of the Research and Special Libraries Division of the Association of Jewish Libraries. Her research focuses on the Middle East and North Africa and their Jewish communities, with special reference to Libya. She has published several books and articles in the field.

Guidelines for Reviewers

Shimeon Brisman, Editor, APPROBATIONS

Book reviews are expected to include descriptions, evaluations, and critical comments (preferably in this order).

The descriptive part should acquaint the reader sufficiently with both the purpose and contents of the work. Data about the author, or additional information about the work (part of a series, illustrations, etc.), may be included in this part.

The evaluation of the material should consist of an objective examination of the contents, a spot-checking of sources, and summarization of findings (whether the work meets the stated objectives of the author, whether the work meets scholarly standards, etc.). Critical comments pertaining to the technical aspects of the work (arrangement of material, order of chapters, bibliography, etc.) may be included in this section.

Basic criticism, including the reviewer’s opinions and final judgment of the work, should be relegated to the end of the review.

Note to publishers: Monographs are not reviewed in the journal, nor are such books received listed. Judaica publications other than reference books, works of professional interest, and new periodicals should be received listed. Judaica publications other than reference books, works of professional interest, and new periodicals should be
