Yael Penkower, 1945–2016

Esther Nussbaum
enussbaum142@gmail.com
Yael Penkower, 1945–2016

Author Biography & Related Information
Esther Nussbaum retired as Head Librarian of Ramaz Upper School in New York City. She was an active member of AJL, serving as president from 1996 to 1998. She also was a founding member of the New York Metropolitan Area Chapter and co-chaired the 1993 convention in New York City. Esther also edited the Jewish Book World for nine years and continues to write book reviews for JBW.

This in memoriam is available in Judaica Librarianship: https://ajlpublishing.org/jl/vol19/iss1/11
Yael Penkower, 1945–2016

Yael Penkower, a founding and active member of the New York Metropolitan Area (NYMA) chapter of Association of Jewish Libraries, passed away in Israel on Shabbat, Parshat Tzav, March 26, 2016, surrounded by her loving family. She was a wonderfully skilled reference librarian, having earned her Master of Library Science from SUNY-Albany and her master’s degree in Judaic Studies at Brooklyn College. Yael was an enthusiastic convener and sharer of information and knowledge. She brought her talents to several institutions, including YIVO Institute for Jewish Research, the Jewish Theological Seminary, Stern College for Women, and Yeshivah of Flatbush High School. For many years, she chaired the NYMA reference workshops, which served as a basis for continuing education for the metropolitan area librarians. She also consulted for Am HaSefer, Keren Keshet—The Rainbow Foundation, and the Avi Chai Foundation. Wherever she worked her colleagues all loved and admired her.

Yael (née Goodman) Penkower, a seventh generation Israeli, graduated from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and moved to the United States in 1969 after she married historian Monty Penkower. They raised five children, all of whom live in Israel, where Yael and Monty settled in 2002. Yael served as Head Librarian at Pelech High School and then at Beit Morasha. After her retirement, Yael volunteered at the Central Zionist Archives and the Ben-Yehuda Project. In addition to articles she had written for AJL Newsletter and Judaica Librarianship, she had co-authored a prayer for new mothers, which is available from the Jewish Orthodox Feminist Alliance (JOFA). Yael’s love of learning was evident throughout her life. She was an integral part of a weekly Women’s Shabbat Talmud shi’ur in Flatbush, Brooklyn that had begun about thirty years ago, and after returning to Israel she also gave a women’s Talmud shi’ur in Jerusalem.

As librarian in Ramaz Upper School, I had many opportunities to benefit from Yael’s knowledge. Yael contributed greatly to the success of NYMA and helped produce a great program for the 1993 AJL convention in New York, which I chaired with Edith Lubetski of Stern College. While I had not been in close contact with Yael in recent years, her majestic qualities remain strong in my mind.