Abstract: The column covers the additions and changes to the Library of Congress classification made from July 1992 to March 1993 in the classes of major importance to Judaica libraries. Recorded here are the usual cutter additions and changes to various topics under class BM (Judaism) and its tables, as well as classes BS (Bible), DS (History) and PJ (Language and Literature). Other classes (i.e., B, BJ, DD, F, HE, PN, RC) that had changes pertaining to Judaica during this period are also included. The article notes several cutter additions under class number DS 135 (History of Jews outside of Palestine, by region or country, A–Z) that reflect the recent demise of the Soviet Union and the former republics’ becoming independent states.

Of major significance are the following changes: (1) the breakdown for Jewish ethical philosophers (BJ 1287) was revised, with more general instructions for classification. (2) Under class number BM 675 (Special liturgical works), the cutters for the three major groups of Judaic liturgical books (i.e., Siddur, .D3; Mahzor, .F45; Haggadah, .P4) were removed from BM 675 and placed in their own new class numbers, which allows for greater expansion.

Introduction

The scope of this column encompasses the entire LC classification, with particular emphasis on the classes of major importance to Judaica libraries. Changes in LC classification as they pertain to Judaica, including additions, cancellations, or replacements of class numbers are reported.

The additions and changes to LC classification in this column were culled from the following lists of LC Classification Additions and Changes: 247 (July–September 1992), 248 (October–December 1992), and 249 (January–March 1993).

We welcome suggestions and comments from our readers. Future columns will be compiled by Ella Ruderman. Please write her at:

B—Philosophy (General)

B In List 247, the Library of Congress expanded class number B3318 (Special topics pertaining to the German philosopher Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche, A–Z) with the addition of the cutter .J83 for Judaism.
Aboab is given first as a separate example, with a cutter for selections from his work. Then, the range of cutters to classify the philosophers. Aboab was not a good example, how­

In the original breakdown, Aboab was used as an example of how to classify the philosophers. Aboab was not a good example, however, because he authored only one work (Menorat ha-Ma'or). Therefore, a cutter for collected works would not apply to him. In the new breakdown, the order of the instructions is changed; Aboab is given first as a separate example, with a cutter for selections from his work. Then, the range of cutters Other ethical philosophers, A–Z is added for general instructions to the cataloger in classifying the rest of the ethical philosophers.

The last caption expansion (first element) reflects the new AACR2 form for the uniform title.

The Library of Congress expanded the class number BM645 (Other topics in dogmatic Judaism, A–Z) with the addition of the following cutters in List 248: "469.9 (Special topics in rabbinical literature, A–Z) was expanded by four new cutters in Lists 247 and 249:

In Lists 247 and 248 the Library of Congress added the following two cutters and notes and expanded one caption under class number BM525 (Individual cabalistic texts, A–Z). Only the italicized words are the additions.

The last caption expansion (first element) reflects the new AACR2 form for the uniform title.

The Library of Congress expanded the class number BM645 (Other topics in dogmatic Judaism, A–Z) with the addition of the following cutters in List 248: .C73 Creative ability .H85 Human rights

Lists 248 and 249 added the following two cutters under BM670 (Special elements in liturgy, A–Z): .A69 Ashmorot .M34 Malkhu yot

List 247 reported a major change in class number BM675 (Special liturgical books, A–Z). The three liturgical books—Siddur (designated as cutter .D3 Daily prayers under BM675), Mahzor (designated as cutter F45 Festival prayers under BM675), and Haggadah (designated as cutter .P4 Seder service, the Hag­

This new schedule allows for greater expansion and more flexibility in distinguishing, within a particular class, which language or rite a particular liturgical book uses. In addition, the special cutters created for designating Hasidic works should be very helpful to the cataloger. The only negative aspect of the new schedule that this author sees is that it takes these three genres out of the alphabetical sequence in which LC arranges other Jewish liturgical books.

BM The Library of Congress expanded BM675 (Special liturgical books, A–Z) in Lists 247 and 249 with the following two cutters:

. H55 Holocaust Remembrance Day prayers
. T82 Tu bi-Shevat prayers

BM List 247 added the following new cutter and note under class number BM755 (Biography of individual Rabbis and H73 Jewish leaders, A–Z):

. H73 Horowitz, Jacob Isaac, d. 1815. Jacob Isaac, ha-Hozeh, Mi-Lublin, 1745–1815, see . H73

BM In Table III (Special Midrashim, BM517), List 249 added the following new cutter:

BS—The Bible

BS List 247 added the new cutter . C33 for Caleb under C33

BS Under class number BS649 (Prophecy of special future events, A–Z), List 249 added the cutter . C33 for Bahai Faith. (Bahai is a religious system, founded in 1863, which emphasizes the spiritual unity of mankind.)

BS The Library of Congress instructs us in List 247 to move class number BS656 (Meteorology, one of the special topics in Bible and science) below the word Meterology and to change the caption next to 656 and add the decimal 656.5 division . 5 as follows:

Meteorology
BS656 General works
. 5 Storms
The class number BS680 (Auxiliary topics about the Bible, not otherwise provided for, A–Z), has been expanded in Lists 247 and 249 with the following cutters and note:

.F38 Fatherhood
.F55 First fruits
.S79 Stress (Psychology)

In Lists 247 and 248, the Library of Congress added the following cutters under the class number BS1199 (Topics about, or in, the Old Testament, not elsewhere provided for, A–Z):

.A25 Abnormalities, Human
.B43 Bedouins
.E35 Economics
.S68 Space perception
.S9 Sun Worship

Under the class number DD256 (Period of World War II, 1939–1945), List 248 reports an alteration and expansion in the scope of DD256.3. Until now, the number DD256.3 had the caption Resistance movements against National Socialist Regime. Now we are instructed to move DD256.3 below this caption and add the following two decimal breakdowns for this topic under class number DD256:

256.3 General Works
256.35 Assassination attempts against Hitler

In Judaica Librarianship, vol. 4, no. 2 (Spring 1988–Winter 1989), p. 155, the author noted the addition of the cutter .F34 for Falashas or Ethiopian Jews under class number DS113.8 (Other elements in Israel's population, A–Z), and commented that the cutter failed to take note of the controversial nature of the term "Falashas." In List 248, the Library of Congress has now added the cutter .E83 for Ethiopians under DS113.8. Along with this addition comes the deletion of the offensive cutter .F34 for Falashas. It is interesting to note that a similar change was made in LC Subject Headings from Falashas to Jews, Ethiopian.

In the same list, the Library of Congress has responded to the demise of the Soviet Union and the former republics' becoming independent states, with the enumeration of the following countries under DS135 (History of Jews outside of Palestine, by region or country, A–Z):

.A96 Azerbaijan
.B38 Belarus
.E73 Estonia
.G28 Georgia (Republic)
.K39 Kazakhstan
.K97 Kyrgyzstan

.PJ5 Oriental Philology and Literature

List 249 added the following cutter under PJ5030 (Special topics, A–Z, in Hebrew fiction):

.P64 Politics

Under class number PJ5050 (Individual medieval authors and works through 1700, A–Z), the same list added the cutter .J83 for Judah ben Isaac ibu Shabbethai, 13th cent.

The following cutter and note were added by List 249 to PJ5051 (Individual modern authors, A–Z, 1701–1820):

.H3 Hayyim Abraham ben Aryeh Löb, 18th/19th cent.

The following note is to be added to the schedule:
Katz, Hayyim Avraham ben Aryeh Leyb, 18th/19th cent., see .H3

Class number PJ5052 (Hebrew literature, individual authors, A–Z, 1821–1885) was expanded in Lists 247, 248, and 249, with the following cutters and note:

.G8 Günzburg, Mordecai Aaron, 1795–1846

The following note is to be added to the schedule:
Guenzburg, Mordecai Aaron, 1795–1846, see .G8

.S32 Schulman, Kalman, 1819–1899
.W37 Weissbrem, Israel, 1839–ca. 1916

We are also instructed to delete a see reference from Lithuania, leading us to DS135.R93L55 (Russia), and to add Lithuania as a new cutter under DS135:

.5–53 Lithuania (Add ".5–53"; change line from reference)

[Asterisk indicates a change.]

In consonance with this change, we are told to delete the cutter .L55 from DS135.R93L55:

[R93 Local places in Russia, A–Z]
.L55 Lithuania (Cancel line.)

The same list added the following cutter under HE6183 (Postage stamps. By topic, A–Z):
Class number PJ5053 (Hebrew literature, individual authors, A–Z, 1886–1945) was expanded in Lists 247, 248, and 249. The Library of Congress added notes, and also added and/or changed the headings for the following authors and their respective cutters:

.A43  Alper, Rebekah
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Alper, Rivkah, see .A43

.G64  Gottfried, Markus
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Gottfried, Mordekhai, see .G64

.H58  Hokhman, Haim
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Hokhman, Chaim, see .H47

.I9   lvri, Isac
The following note is to be added to the schedule: lvri, Yitschak, 1990–, see .I9

Class number PJ5054 (Hebrew literature, individual authors, A–Z, 1946–) was expanded in Lists 247, 248, and 249. The Library of Congress added notes and also added and/or changed the headings for the following authors and their respective cutters:

.B37  Bat-Hanna, Ahouva
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Bat Hanna, Ahuvah, see .B37

.B42356 Ben-Itzhak, Ruthi
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Yitzhaki, Ruth, see .B42356

.H47  Hertz, Dalia, 1942–
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Hertz, Daliyah, see .H47

.P69  Pre'gerzon, Grigorii Izrailevich, 1900–1969
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Pregerzon, 1900–1969, see .P69

.R4   Reshef, Chaim
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Reshef, Haim, see .R4

.S4493 Shenhar, 'Alizah
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Shenhar-Alroy, Aliza, see .S4493

.S745 Stendel, Israel, 1904–
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Shṭendel, Yiṣra'el, 1904–, see .S745

Class number PJ5081–5089 deals with various Judeo-Persian dialects. In List 248, the Library of Congress added a new class number, PJ5089.2, for Judeo-Tajik, a variant of Judeo-Persian spoken by Jews in Uzbekistan and Tajikistan. We are instructed to use Table XVI for this language.

Class number PJ5120.7 (Yiddish literature, special topics, A–Z) was expanded in Lists 247, 248, and 249:

.H64  Holocaust, Jewish (1939–1945)
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Segal, Myer, see .S3734

.S43135 Sharigel, Yaakov Zvi
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Sharigel, I. Z., see .S43135

.Y78  Yungman, Moses
The following note is to be added to the schedule: Yungman, M., 1922–, see .Y78

In consonance with this addition, the Library of Congress also instructed catalogers to add the following reference note twice under the same class number: once after the cutter .f for Prisoners of war and once after the cutter .R43 for Refugees:
