- ◇ A concise, informative title;
- ◇ The full names of all authors;
- ◇ Names of the institutions with which they are affiliated, along with the city and state or country in which they are located;
- ◇ An informative abstract containing 100-200 words.
- ◇ A brief biographical note, with full professional titles, institutional affiliations, and e-mail address or other contact information, plus pertinent details regarding experience/background related to the subject of the manuscript. This should appear at the conclusion of the manuscript.

The text of the article should be broken up by appropriate section headings, e.g., Introduction, Conclusions. Abbreviations and acronyms used in the text should be spelled out the first time they are used, e.g., Association of Jewish Libraries (AJL).

Romanization

Romanization is required for Hebrew and Yiddish words, phrases, and titles included within the text of an article. The Library of Congress systems for romanization of Hebrew and Cyrillic, and the YIVO system for romanization of Yiddish should be used.

In addition, both romanized and original-alphabet data for Hebrew citations should be included in a list of bibliographic references at the end of the manuscript. Each romanized reference should appear in the general alphabetic sequence of references arranged by author, with the Hebrew reference immediately following the romanized one. Full bibliographic data should appear in both the Hebrew and romanized references.

References

Authors should take responsibility for the provision of complete and accurate bibliographic references. Full journal titles, rather than abbreviations, should be given in bibliographic references.

Textual footnotes should be used sparingly. The preferred method of referencing is the author-date system, also known as the Harvard System of Citation. For additional background, see The Chicago Manual of Style, 15th edition, revised (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2003).

Here are some brief instructions on the use of the system:

When a statement in a text requires documentation, place the author's name, the date of publication, and, if necessary, the page reference in parentheses before the period that ends the sentence, e.g.:

(Schwartz, 1982, p. 21).

If the author's name is part of the sentence, the date (and page) may be placed right next to it, e.g.:

This suggestion was made by Schwartz (1982, p. 21).

If the work to be cited has a lengthy corporate author, the parenthetical reference may be an abbreviation, e.g.:

(AJL, 1981).

In the list of references at the end of the paper, the abbreviated form should be bracketed, and the full name of the organization spelled out after it, e.g.:

[AJL, 1981] Association of Jewish Libraries.

If you are citing two works by one author that were published in the same year, add a and b to the dates in parenthetical references, e.g., (Levy, 1984a). Repeat the date code after the author's full name in the reference at the end of the paper, e.g.:

Levy, Jacob, 1984a.

Where only one work by a given author, or works published in different years, are cited, the dates need only be placed in the references in normal position, following the volume and issue number of a periodical and preceding pagination, or following the publication data for a book.

Illustrations

Photographs and other illustrations (tables, figures, diagrams, charts, graphs, illustrations, appendixes, screen captures) should be submitted in machine-readable format. For tables and charts the preferred software is Microsoft Word. For graphics, use TIFF or a format that can be translated into TIFF (such as .jpg). Each illustration should be in a separate file. Tables and figures should be numbered and referred to in the text.

In addition, a camera-ready hard copy of each illustration should be provided. Each figure, table, or illustration should be prepared on a separate sheet of 8.5 × 11 inch or A-4 paper. Graphs, charts, and other illustrative matter should be in black and white, not color. Enclose a piece of cardboard in the envelope to prevent bending of photographs in the mail.

Alterations Required by Referees and Reviews

Authors are expected to submit manuscripts, disks, and art that are free from misspellings and other typographical errors. (Judaica Librarianship's editors and production staff will correct typesetting errors.) Authors are sent the copyedited article for revisions, and are responsible for making revisions requested by the editor. All editorial revisions must be made before the issue goes into production. Deadlines for making these revisions will be strictly observed.

Upon making these revisions authors are requested to send the editor a final, revised copy of the article, either by e-mail attachment (preferably) or by disk. The following information should be included on the disk label or in the accompanying e-mail message: (1) the title of the article, and (2) the author's name.

Proofs and Reprints

Authors receive a free copy of the journal issue in which their work appears, and permission to photocopy their articles for distribution to their colleagues.

GUIDELINES FOR REVIEWERS

Reviews of reference books, works of professional interest, CD-ROMs, websites, and other electronic resources are expected to include descriptions, evaluations, and critical comments (preferably in this sequence).

The descriptive part should acquaint the reader with both the purpose and contents of the work. Basic information about the author or producer, and the work itself (part of a series, illustrations, etc.) may be included in this portion of the review.

The evaluation of the material should consist of an objective examination of the contents, a spot-checking of sources, and summarization of findings (whether the work meets the stated objectives of the author or producer, whether the work meets scholarly standards, etc.). Critical comments pertaining to the technical aspects of the work (arrangement of material, order of chapters, bibliography, functionality of the interface, etc.) may be included in this section.

Basic criticism, including the reviewer's opinions and final judgment of the work, should be placed toward the end of the review.

Note to publishers: Judaica publications other than reference books, works of professional interest, and new periodicals should be sent to review editors for the AJL Newsletter, as outlined on that publication's website: <http://www.jewishlibraries.org/ajlweb/publications/newsletter.htm>.
